PSYCHOTHERAPEUTIC EXTERNSHIP (PRACTICUM) PROGRAM

This program is recognized as a Member of ACEPT

I. GENERAL INFORMATION

Connections Day School (CDS) is a private therapeutic day school, founded in 1998. We serve children and adolescents, in 1st through 12th grade, primarily from Lake County who, because of significant special education needs, require an alternative school program that is both educational and therapeutic. By utilizing therapeutic, educational, family and community connections, CDS is able to promote academic achievement, social/emotional well-being and personal growth. The Staff Members at CDS employ a variety of methods to help students make academic progress, appropriately manage their behavior, and develop and/or improve their coping, problem-solving and social skills. By utilizing a combination of trauma-informed care, restorative practices, respect, humor and empathy, and maintaining high expectations all while ensuring that students adhere to established rules, boundaries and expectations, Staff Members are able to establish and maintain supportive, nurturing relationships with our students. In turn, these relationships can help the students be more open to learning the life skills required for short and long-term success.

The students engage in an academically challenging curriculum emphasizing group instruction and hands-on activities. The Clinical/Therapeutic Staff at CDS utilize a cognitive-behavioral/problem-solving approach as well as psychodynamic, dialectical-behavior, family-systems and narrative principles. In addition, the Lakota-Sioux Circle of Courage – which teaches the value of belonging, independence, generosity and mastery – is explored to help students develop these essential life skills. This multi-faceted approach works to assist the students in: overcoming issues at hand; practicing positive, alternative behaviors; and exploring ways to “re-write” their negative life stories. The goal is to work with students to build on their strengths and gifts, and be allies with them in their struggle against the challenges and obstacles that get in the way of their success. The therapeutic milieu is based on a positive, nurturing model, where natural, logical consequences for behaviors are utilized as often as possible. CDS avoids using restrictive and/or punitive methods of behavior management and does not have a time-out room. Therapeutic holding (restraint) is only employed as a last resort, when a student is presenting as a danger to him/herself or others.

Ms. Betty Lindquist and Dr. John Schuler, the founders of our program, chose to base the mission of CDS on philosophical principles similar to those held at Counseling Connections – their multi-disciplinary group practice which specializes in the therapeutic needs of children, adolescents and families. The professionals at Counseling Connections have worked closely with the schools, courts and social service agencies of Lake and Northern Cook Counties since 1982.

II. TRAINING PROGRAM, GOALS & OBJECTIVES

The Clinical Training Program at Connections Day School is extensive - offering three Post-Doctoral Fellowship positions, three Doctoral Internship (APA accredited) positions and four Therapy Externship/Practicum (ACEPT member) positions.

The Therapy Externship program has been designed to help Externs acquire and refine their clinical skills in key areas of practice, all while functioning as a valued member of a Multidisciplinary Team. This team is comprised of Special Education Teachers, Program Assistants, Restorative Intervention Specialists, an Art Therapist, Substance Abuse Specialist, Occupational Therapist, Speech & Language Pathologist, Marriage & Family Specialist and Psychiatrist. There is an emphasis on training in fundamental clinical skills with a primary focus on Individual, Group, Family & Milieu Therapy, and Crisis Intervention. The training program is designed and organized in a way that provides Externs with a planned, programmed sequence of training experiences – one that assures breadth and quality of training.

Externs are provided with opportunities to work with high-risk children, adolescents and their families. Individuals who are struggling with mild to severe: mood, anxiety, behavior, substance-related, psychotic, developmental, and personality disorders; and who are diverse in age, culture, ethnicity, race, religion, socioeconomic status, gender identity and sexual orientation. All of this work is done under the careful supervision of the Clinical Director, and other members of our dynamic Clinical Training Staff.

Ultimately, our primary objective is to promote our Externs' professional growth in such a way that, by the end of the training year, they feel confident in their ability to function as Clinicians who practice in accordance with the highest standards of care.

TRAINING NOTES:

- Externs may be asked to audio/video tape their sessions for review within supervision; and any audio/video taped sessions that are utilized outside of the CDS building for academic, training or professional purposes may be reviewed by the supervisor.
- Although Externs at CDS do not conduct any psychological testing, when one of the students on their caseload requires testing, they collaborate with the Examiner in reviewing the data and developing a case formulation based on both the testing data and the Extern's therapeutic work with the student. Psychodiagnostic Externs from Counseling Connection (and their Supervisors) are the only individuals who provide formal psychological testing for Connections Day School students.
- Externs engage in data collection and progress monitoring for each of the students on their caseload. This is done through weekly tracking of the therapeutic and social/emotional goals identified on each student's Individual Education Plan (IEP). Externs utilize a school-wide, online, goal-tracking matrix to accomplish this task – this program helps CDS staff collect data within all tiers of therapeutic, academic, and behavioral intervention, and yields data charts of student progress. This data is then utilized to assess quarterly progress on each student's IEP goals – the primary outcome measure utilized within this setting.

Any serious concerns will be discussed with the Extern, the other members of the Clinical Training Staff, and the Director of Training at the Extern's academic program. All Externs will receive a copy of the document: Due Process & Grievance Procedures, for a full explanation of these policies, at the beginning of their training/orientation year.
